NIGHTINGALE
EDUCATION GROUP

Why Join Nightingale?

About Nightingale Education Group

Nightingale Education Group is comprised of four operating divisions: Nightingale College, Nightingale Innovations, Nightingale Solutions, and EvolveU. Each division is committed to the contribution of closing health equity gaps by elevating education and employment systems to create a relevantly skilled, readily available nursing workforce, representative of communities they serve.

Nightingale College specializes in distance nursing education offering six programs along the nursing continuum: the Practical Nurse (PN) Diploma Program, Licensed Practical Nurse (LPN) to Associate of Science in Nursing (ASN) Program, Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) Program, Registered Nurse (RN) to Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) Online Program, Master of Science in Nursing Education Program, and Master of Science in Nursing Family Nurse Practitioner Program. The College has graduated 4,300+ learners and its programs are available nationwide.

Nightingale Innovations works to create learning resources to advance professional competencies along the continuum of healthcare and workforce development. The development of innovative curricula models and virtual health care simulations helps elevate education and health outcomes.

Nightingale Solutions collaborates with nurse employers to build retention and career laddering opportunities for their staff and assist employers in creating sponsorship programs. Nightingale Solutions helps integrate employer/learner relations to better prepare graduates for initial practice settings.

EvolveU delivers online micro-credentials and CEs for upskilling and re-skilling nurses and faculty.

About Nightingale Education Group

Nightingale Education Group is also a preferred partner of the Nightingale Foundation. They work together to improve health outcomes by reducing negative effects of the nursing shortage and removing financial barriers for access to nursing education for non-traditional students in underserved and underrepresented communities through scholarships and alternative funding.

Impact

Nightingale Education Group contributes to closing health equity gaps by elevating education and employment systems to create a relevantly skilled, readily available nursing workforce, representative of the communities they serve.

Purpose

“Better World Through Better Humanity and Better Health.”

Pathway

All learners and collaborators are expected to align with the College’s EVOLVITUDE™ statement:

- I readily share information with appropriate parties to enable greater self-awareness, deeper relationships, and better outcomes.
- I acknowledge, own, and act upon my own contribution to a situation/result. I proactively work to improve myself, my relationships, and my contribution to outcomes.
- I regulate my emotions, thoughts, and behaviors in various situations by choosing a growth mindset, taking responsibility, and exercising transparency.
- I see failures as temporary and sources of learning; I believe that effort matters more than ease. I see others’ mistakes similarly and show them grace.

Why Join Nightingale in the Pursuit of Life-long Learning?

At Nightingale College, we recognize that healthcare professionals are instrumental in driving innovation, improving patient outcomes, and shaping the future of care. With our mission grounded in equity, client-centered care, and holistic professional development, we're dedicated to supporting lifelong learning across the healthcare continuum and instilling learners with the skills and insights to lead with empathy, resilience, and expertise. Through EvolveU, we offer asynchronous, on-demand courses designed to meet the evolving needs of today's healthcare workforce.

Each course offers practical strategies and knowledge to help you excel as an educator in areas that include inclusivity, patient engagement, and advanced clinical teaching practices. We believe that empowering educators with these critical skills ultimately leads to stronger healthcare teams and better patient outcomes. In alignment with our vision of building a “a Better World through Better Humanity and Better Health,” our courses are designated to foster holistic development in healthcare education, so you can inspire the next generation of healthcare professionals to make a positive, lasting impact.

"A workforce representative of the communities they serve."

Educator Success Series

What is Educator Success?

The Educator Success Series at Nightingale College is designed to support all healthcare professionals who serve in teaching roles—whether in academic settings, clinical environments, or direct patient care. This series helps develop advanced instructional skills tailored to the unique demands of healthcare education. Whether you're a healthcare provider, nursing faculty member, facilitator, clinical preceptor, or a nurse educating patients at the bedside, the series offers a range of professional development topics and innovative resources to help you teach, inform, and inspire.

Courses within the series emphasize both technical instruction and compassionate communication, providing meaningful and impactful tools that can be applied in real time. The topics and resources are relevant not only to traditional on-ground and online classroom settings, but also to patient education and clinical training environments.

Why is Educator Success So Important?

Educator success is essential to shaping effective learning environments that directly influence teaching quality, patient engagement, and real-world readiness. At Nightingale College, we believe in “a Better World through Better Humanity and Better Health”—a vision realized by equipping learners with the tools they need to inspire and empower others.

Our mission to promote equity and excellence in healthcare education is embodied in the Educator Success Series: a suite of offerings designed to help healthcare professionals advance their teaching skills and thrive as resilient, competent, and compassionate educators. Through this series, learners gain essential skills for impactful instruction while contributing to inclusive, empathetic environments where patients are empowered to become self-advocates in their ongoing health journeys.

Who Would Benefit from the Educator Success Series?

Anyone who is in an educational role would benefit from the series. This includes:

- Faculty Members
- Patient Educators
- Healthcare Professionals
- Trainers in Healthcare Settings

Essential Workforce Skills

One Size Doesn't Fit All: Personalized Patient Engagement

One Size Doesn't Fit All: Personalized Patient Engagement

One Size Doesn't Fit All: Personalized Patient Engagement Series, supports healthcare professionals in strengthening their roles as educators and advocates. Grounded in the belief that patient engagement is a two-way conversation, the series helps providers build confidence in their practice while empowering patients to take ownership of their health.

Through topics like empathetic communication, community-building, and navigating post-COVID care, learners gain practical tools to foster trust, accountability, and whole-person care. A final capstone course brings it all together through reflective, scenario-based learning focused on real-world patient partnerships.

Series Outcomes

- Identify key communication techniques that help nurses build empathy and trust with patients.
- Describe strategies that promote collaboration between patients and nurses in clinical settings.
- Explain how evolving societal, technological, and cultural factors influence healthcare professional communication and interaction norms.
- Apply knowledge through real-world case studies focused on patient-centered care.

One Size Doesn't Fit All: Personalized Patient Engagement series skill development includes:

Health Information Communication

Communicate health information appropriately according to the individual's health literacy level.

Advocacy Strategy Identification

The Effectiveness Of Clinical Judgement In Delivering Quality Care

The Effectiveness Of Clinical Judgement In Delivering Quality Care

Acquiring critical thinking skills lead to stronger clinical judgement which leads to making informed and rational decisions for delivering quality care. The Effectiveness of Clinical Judgement in Delivering Quality Care series focuses on supporting both seasoned healthcare workers and nursing learners in strengthening their clinical judgement.

Series Outcomes

- Identify the importance of developing and applying clinical judgement for nursing learners and ongoing professionals.
- Implement clinical judgement skills, such as critical thinking, reflection, and self-awareness.
- Employ ethical considerations in clinical judgement.

Did you know that 75% of rookie nurses were involved in a medication error? It is estimated 65% of adverse patient events could have been prevented if nurses had made better decisions.

Micro-Credentials

What are Micro-Credentials

A micro-credential consists of short, focused courses that verify advanced knowledge or mastery in a certain topic.

Why are Micro-Credentials Important?

Micro-credentials offer flexible, focused recognition of specific skills and competencies. They help learners demonstrate expertise, stay current in their field, and build toward career advancement, thus making education more accessible, personalized, and aligned with real-world needs.

Who Would Benefit from Micro-Credentials?

Any learner who would like to: :

- Continue their education
- Level up their career
- Demonstrate an ongoing commitment to learning
- Be more competitive in the workplace
- Try something new

Essential Workforce Skills

- Therapeutic communication
- Compassionate care
- Cultural competence
- Crisis intervention
- Health education and promotion
- Community engagement
- Emergency preparedness
- Resource navigation
- Advocacy for underserved populations
- Evidence-based practice application
- Critical thinking and clinical reasoning
- Leadership in healthcare settings
- Digital literacy for patient engagement
- Ethical decision-making
- Interdisciplinary collaboration
- Patient-centered care planning
- Reflective practice
- Trauma-informed care
- Mental health awareness
- Population health strategy

Rural Health

Psychiatric Mental Health Nursing

The background image shows a woman and a man in white lab coats in a dairy farm. The woman is petting a white cow's head, while the man stands next to her holding a blue clipboard. They are in a modern barn with metal stalls and large ceiling fans.

Rural Health

Rural Health

According to the Center for Disease Control (CDC), 15 percent (46 million people) of the United States population live in rural areas. Rural nurses work in smaller healthcare facilities and must be able to think critically and provide care for clients of all ages with a wide variety of healthcare needs. In rural healthcare settings, nurses need to be skilled in emergency medicine, pediatrics, cardiology, telemetry and surgery. Physical assessment and critical thinking skills are vital as rural nurses are faced with traumatic injuries, strokes and heart attacks. Rural nurses must engage in continued learning, updating certifications, and taking advanced classes to have a solid foundation of knowledge.

The Rural Health Nursing micro-credential program is designed to give nurses the skills, confidence, and competence to support rural communities. This program will also facilitate career mobility of learners and help meet the demand for rural healthcare nurses.

Series Outcomes

- Learners will gain insight into the foundation needed for population-based health promotion intervention while emphasizing theoretical models, intervention strategies, and culturally sensitive care.
- Learners will explore the scope of rural nursing practice, mental health needs, emergency preparedness, evidence-based clinical practice, and patient-centered strategies. Participants will engage in real-world scenarios, complete practical assignments, and build a foundation for impactful nursing care in underserved areas.

- Learners will apply evidence-based practices and quality improvement strategies to real-world rural health issues. The course culminates in the creation and submission of a fully developed capstone project aimed at fostering health equity and addressing disparities in rural populations.
- Learners will explore the root causes of rural health disparities, examine ethical considerations, identify barriers to proper healthcare, and propose real-world solutions grounded in evidence-based practices. This course emphasizes critical thinking, advocacy, and the empowerment of nurses to make meaningful contributions to improving health equity in underserved rural areas.

Rural Health Nursing micro-credential program skill development includes:

Community Association Development

Develop associations within the community in order to better understand healthcare needs and policies.

Enable Population Health Improvements

Identify existing connections among ideas or solutions.

Issues Approach Implementation

Implement approaches to address a variety of issues in a healthcare environment.

Continuing Education Units

Earning Continuing Education Units (CEUs)

Upon completing courses in our Educator Success Series, participants will receive a Continuing Education Unit (CEU) certificate to recognize their time and commitment to professional development. CEUs, awarded by Nightingale, reflect an educator's investment in advancing their teaching skills and enhancing their impact in educational and healthcare settings.

Nightingale College is accredited by the International Accreditors for Continuing Education and Training (IACET) and offers IACET CEUs for its learning events that comply with the ANSI/IACET Continuing Education and Training Standard. IACET is recognized internationally as a standard development organization and accrediting body that promotes quality of continuing education and training.

Badges & Certificates

Learners will receive badges to mark milestones upon completing each course, recognizing their progress and skill development along the way. Upon completing all courses in a series, they receive a Full Badge for the completion of the series that reflects their comprehensive achievement. Badges are exclusive to the Learning Management System platform and serve as a gamification tool, encouraging internal learners to stay motivated, track progress, and engage in friendly competition as they complete courses and series.

In addition to digital badges, learners receive downloadable certificates upon completing each course and full series. Certificates serve as portable, verifiable credentials that can be shared with employers, professional networks, and digital platforms—highlighting real-world competencies and commitment to continued learning.
