

MSN 575 : Advanced Pathopharmacological Foundations

Delivery Modality:	Distance
Semester Credits:	4 (Didactic Only)
Contact Hours:	60 (Online Didactic)
Outside Preparation:	An average of three (3) hours per week for every didactic credit hour.
Typically Offered:	Summer
Prerequisites:	None
Corequisites:	None
Requisites:	None

Description: This course is an in-depth exploration of the connection between pathophysiology and pharmacology in nursing practice. It is designed to equip nurse educators with advanced knowledge and skills in understanding the underlying mechanisms of diseases and the pharmacological interventions used in their treatment. Additionally, this course covers teaching strategies for effective pathopharmacology education, including the design of learning experiences, instructional methods, and technologies that facilitate learner mastery and engagement.